

Endocrinology and Metabolism

The Division of Pediatric Endocrinology and Metabolism at Harbor UCLA Medical Center offers a three year training program for graduates of pediatric residency programs. The program is ACGME-accredited for one position per training year. The program provides comprehensive clinical and scholarly activity training required for subspecialty board eligibility with the American Board of Pediatrics. This program will support development of high level investigative skills for individuals wishing to pursue a research-oriented academic career, and also strong teaching skills for those interested in clinician-educator careers.
