The Children's Mercy Research Institute (CMRI) integrates research and clinical care with nationally recognized expertise in genomic medicine, precision therapeutics, population health and health care innovation. The Institute's new home is nine stories and 375,000 square feet of boundary-breaking collaboration between science and medicine. We translate scientific discoveries into pediatric medical advances, right here. Every day.

The CMRI is bridging the silos between researchers and clinicians, all in service of getting children the cutting-edge treatments they need—faster. Based on our commitment to translational research, the CMRI is focused on the specific needs of our young patients and the people who love them. We collaborate across departments and divisions to shorten the diagnostic odyssey, get answers for hurting families, and give children everywhere hope.
