How Does It Work?

Features That Save Time and Increase Efficiency

PediNotes interfaces with hospital EMRs to provide neonatal and pediatric specific functionality including nutrition and medication formularies, growth charts, and in-program data analytics. Two-way communication between PediNotes and the EMR means caregivers can send and receive clinical data from within PediNotes without having to use multiple systems.

Why PediNotes?

Steve Spedale, MD, FAAP

“ I created PediNotes because I wanted to practice medicine with software that had the specific functionalities that matter to me as a neonatologist. PediNotes is intuitive - it reflects the natural process of how pediatric caregivers work, interact, and communicate. As a result, I'm now spending more time with my patients, and less time with my computer screen. ”
